

(103)Education, Society, Curriculum and Learners

Maximum Marks: 100

External: 70

Internal: 30

Design of the Course

At least one unit of study to be field-based

For each unit of study to build the linkage with the existing practices (inside and outside schools)

Specific readings as suggested in discussion, and essential readings should be used for a deeper and closer understanding of each unit

Rationale and Aim

As future teachers and educators, students (i.e. student teachers) need to have a solid foundation in the core principles and core concepts of education. This paper introduces the philosophical, the sociological, and the historical perspectives on education with a view to initiate inquiries and discussions on significant facets, themes and questions regarding education in India. The present century demands the need to understand the interface between education and society to deal with the issues of prevalent societal inequality and conflict, and address the demands for equality, justice, freedom, dignity and diversity. The philosophical, sociological and historical understanding of education's aims, processes and practices fulfils this need by critically elucidating the linkage that exists between education, knowledge and power.

Specific Objectives

to understand and explore the meaning, aims, purposes of education to develop understanding of philosophical, sociological and historical dimensions of education to identify and question one's own long-established presumptions on knowledge, learner, teacher, and education, and develop a more informed, meaningful understanding of them

- ☐ to expose students to divergent educational thoughts, perspectives and practices, which will help them in creating secure, egalitarian and pedagogically sound learning situations

Units of Study

Unit 1: Philosophical Understanding of Education

Exploring, and inquiring into the nature and need of education in human societies

Relationship between schooling and education, and exploring various educative processes in human societies

Schooling and Education as visualized by different western and Indian thinkers: Rousseau, Dewey, Gandhi, Tagore, philosophy of sikh gurus

Understanding the basic assumptions about human nature, society and aims of education

Unit 2: Education, Politics and Society

Prominent characteristics of education in India during colonial rule

India's Contemporary Education: continuities with and shifts from colonial legacy

Role of education in reproducing dominance and challenging marginalization with reference to class, caste, gender and religion

Political nature of education

A critical appraisal of teacher's status in Indian society

Unit 3: Learning, Learner and Teaching

Concept and nature of learning, different ways of learning

Learning, knowledge and skills:

Meaning of teaching and its relationship with learning and learner

Understanding social influences and factors that shape learner's identity.

Unit 4: Knowledge and Curriculum

Child's construction of knowledge: attaining knowledge through activity and experience

'Body of knowledge' and children's construction of knowledge

Concepts of Belief, Information, Knowledge and Understanding

Different kinds of knowledge and their validation processes

Processes and criteria for curriculum selection and construction in India

New trends in education- NCF-2005, NCFTE-2009

Knowledge as power: representation, inclusion and exclusion of knowledge of different social groups in curriculum and textbooks

Mode of Transaction

Critical thought and questioning should be the basis for the transaction as well as should be further honed

Teachers must engage in dialogue and discussion with students minimizing the traditional lecture mode

Teachers should incorporate seminars, discussions, movie appraisals, group-work, field works, projects and the close reading of articles, policies, documents

The connections between all the four units must be sought

The units are to be studied by keeping the socio-historical-political context in mind
